Dear Reverend Kreta:

On behalf of Mr. Dulles, I would like to acknowledge and thank you for your letter of 25 November and the enclosed copy of your letter to President Eisenhower requesting that he visit the Oecumenical Patriarch of the Eastern Orthodox Church in Istanbul.

This is a matter which does not fall within the purview of the Central Intelligence Agency. However, your courtesy in writing to us about this is indeed appreciated.

Sincerely,

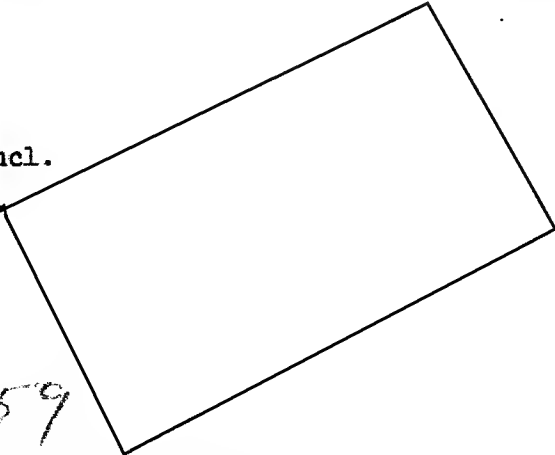

[Handwritten signature]

Executive Officer

Dear Mr. President:

We understand that on your overseas trip you are to visit Italy and Turkey. It has been publicized that while in Italy you are to visit Pope John XXIII, Head of the Roman Catholic Church.

To our deep regret we have seen no mention of a visit to the Ecumenical Patriarch of the Eastern Orthodox Church whose headquarters are in Istanbul. You know the dignitary; he is Patriarch Athanagoras, formerly Head of the Greek Orthodox Church in America.

The clergy of the Pittsburgh Deanery at a meeting held Tuesday, November 24, in the Russian Orthodox Center, McKeesport, Pennsylvania, unanimously asked that you be informed of the need for such a visit. Over a hundred million of the Eastern Orthodox are behind the Iron Curtain wanting to and trying to worship God and do so under duress. As you well know, the regime is definitely anti-God and anti-religion.

These over a hundred million Eastern Orthodox need to know that the Free World, represented by the President of the United States, sympathizes with them, prays for them, encourages them and is willing to assist them in their desire to serve and glorify God as their fathers and forefathers did.

In our estimation, no other kind of political or humanitarian propaganda could do as much to strengthen the bonds between the Russians and with the other Slavic peoples and the United States. We humbly plead with you, if humanly possible, to make such a visit. It means so much to the world in its desires for peace and understanding.

Humbly and respectfully yours,

Very Rev. Peter M. Kreta

Dean
